

Koi Owner's First Aid Kit:

- (1) Know the volume of water in your pond:
Important if you have to add treatments.
Write it down and place in your First Aid Kit.
- (2) Know the depth of your pond: Record it.
Important for netting koi.
- (3) Long Handled Pan Net 18 to 24 inches, fine webbing
- (4) An adjustable short handled deep net, fine webbing.
- (5) If Possible a sock net:
- (6) Two examination tubs, 20 gallon size. One to put your fish to sleep and one for recovery.
- (7) Clear Plastic Bag, 18" X 30" for examination.
Examining the belly of your fish.
- (8) Water test kits, (a) Ammonia (b) Nitrite ) (c) PH.
- (9) Anesthetizing agent, oil of cloves. Available at health food stores and Shoppers Drug Mart
- (10) Hydrogen Peroxide. Disinfecting Sores
- (11) Iodine. Disinfecting Sores
- (12) Baytril Injectable ( Penicillin Like Treatment for wounds)
" may have to call your koi health adviser to assist with this."
- (13) Several size syringes to administer Baytril
- (14) Antibiotic Ointment "ie" Debride from a koi supply, or Triple Antibiotic Ointment from drugstore.
- (15) Wet Band Aid "denture adhesive powder" (Poly Dent)
- (16) Tweezers ( used for removing infected scales from a wound)
- (17) Blunt end scissors.
- (18) Book on Medical assistance "ie Doc Johnson, or Duncan Griffiths"
- (19) Baking Soda to counteract a drop in PH
- (20) Note Book for record keeping.
- (21) Microscope.
- (22) Surgical Gloves. If you are squeamish about touching Koi Sores, (Caution! koi hard to hold with gloves)
- (23) Towel, to lay koi on and to cover him with.
- (24) Bottle of alcohol (disinfectant for tools)
- (25) Small Tool Box,
- (26) Salt test kit